FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

SUNDAY, May 13, 1866. The stock market was firm throughout the past week, and, although the tendency of prices was upward, there was not speculative activity enough to carry them up to any material extent, but at the close there was a modeany material extent, but at the cover railway shares, and especially Michigan Southern and Cleveland and Pittsburg, in consequence of their largely increased carnings. The "bear" element on the Stock Exchange has subsided into a state of quiescence, while the "bull" strength lies almost inert; but this state of affairs is not likely to be prolonged, and, with increased activity, prices can hardly fail to advance, in view of the great nonetary case and the restored confidence in values.

cans on government securities were made on Saturday low as three per cent, and the surplus of funds seeking osition to invest in railway property, and the belief uch higher prices during the ensuing summer and mn is general. This will have the effect of averting, eaving town during the dog days. The passage of the new Consolidation bill will only tend to inspire confidence nd stimulate speculation, while the payment of temporary deposits by the Treasury will still further surfeit

The examiner appointed by the Comptroller of the Currency to inquire into the condition of the Merchants' National Bank at Washington has made his report, and t confirms the worst suspicious which have been enterof the furniture and fixtures of the establishment, which are valued at $5,017, its real assets, consisting almost exclusively of revenue stamps, turn out to be $789.07 r less, to avoid misunderstanding, than eight hundred ollars). There is, in addition, a little more than sand dollars in the form of special de-and a quantity of bills receivable, propast due and undue, altogether amou to $41,962; but these may be set down as worthless, with perhaps a trifling exception. The nominal assets in the general balance sheet prepared by the emaminer include Baltimore, the firm in question being declared insolvents without assets. It seems from this that Bayne & Co.'s indebtedness to the bank and the United States deposits in it nearly balanced each other. The latter aggregated, at the time of the failure, $762,312, so that there is only an odd fifty thousand dollars between them. The government deposits, too, between the lst of January and the 3d of May increased in about the same proportion as the private deposits decreased. The latter amounted, accord-ing to the reports of the bank, to $609,302 on the 1st of the former increased during the same time from $94,225 the bank between the 21st of April and the 3d of May. the day of the failure.

This rapid accumulation of government money was owing, the examiner says, to an effort to save Beyrie & Co. from failure on the part of Paymaster Paulding and others. Bayne & Co. stood in immediate need of from $150,000 to $250,000 to save them from suspension, and on the 20th of April several interviews and constitutions were held between the parties to this conspiracy to defraud the government. Paymaster Paulding was present at owe or more of these meetings, and on the following day he obligingly deposited two hundred thousand dollars with the doomed bank. At this amount Bayne & Co., at once received $150,000, and $30,000 more to make good cervious day. It will be strange if Paymaster Pauldng is not held criminally responsible for this gross mispplication of the public money entrusted to him, his de-cosits with the bank at the time of its failure having nore than half a million of dollars ($500,851.) It is to be hoped that the Congressional committee appoint-ed to inquire into this scandalous affair will perform its duty without fear or favor.

It may be well to remind taxpayers that the schedules nable to the as Revenue on the 1st of May under the provisions of the amended law of March 3, 1865. It is not the duty, as it should be, of the assessors to send blank forms to the taxpayers in their respective districts, the law requiring the latter to find out the former and obtain the blanks by their own exertions, in default of which the assessors may add a penalty of twenty-five per cent to the amount of the income returned. The tax due is for the year 1865, at the rate of five per cent upon all sums over six hundred dollars and under five thousand per annum, and at the rate of ten per cent on the excess over this latter sum. The Cincinnati Gazette of Friday says:—

There is a good demand for money, but with an ample supply of capital the market works easy, and good paper passes freely at 8 a 10 per cent, and call loans are obtainable at 6 a 7 per cent. The demand for exchange continues in excess of the supply, and shipments of corrency are still necessary. There is so much money and so little use for it, comparatively, that government securities are being bought to a greater extent than they are sold by the outside public, and consequently but little exchange is obtained from this source. At the same time produce is held above Eastern prices relatively, and there are comparatively few commercial bills offering. The imports, meantime, are fair, and the exchanges are of course grainst us. The consequence is a steady flow of currency from the West to New York; but there is still more than enough money loft to answer all the purposes of trade. While this state of things continues it is useless to talk while this state of things continues it is useless to talk while this state of things continues it is useless to talk will be unless if. McCulloch does something to aborb it; and since his business is to sell and exchange ecurities we do not see what he can do to affect it permanently. We quote our market for exchange firm # 50 a 75 premium buying, and 1-10 premium selling.

State four was in some cases 20a a 30c, per bbl. off, as were certain kinds of Western flour, but the decline was by no means general. The sales comprise only 4,500 bbls., at our rovised quotations annoxed. Southern flour was sold with difficulty, even at lower prices, and the market closed very duli and irregular, with sales of 300 bbls, at our quotations. Prices for Canada flour were in a few instances 40c. per bbl. in purchaser's favor, while all grades were at least 20c. lower. The sales were confined o about 300 bbls. Rye flour was dull and heavy. Corron.—The market was very much the same as it was yesterday, buyers manifesting but little disposition to operate at the ruling prices, while holders were as firm as ever. The stock as estimated comprises 155,00 bales. Messrs. Cornwall & Zerega, in their weekly circular, state as follows:—

"There is a fair amount of cotton offering, but all good grades are very finally held, and sell readily at quotations, while low grades sell only slowly.—

"Our advices show a beavy decline in receipts at all points. Reports from most sections of the South are not favorable for the next season's cotton crop. Apparently well authenticated advices show much trouble from imperfect sed, severe froits and overflows. While it is yet too early to estimate with any degree of satirs.
